THE DAVIDSON
ACADEMY
OF NEVADA

“The decision to attend the Academy was, without a doubt, the single best educational decision my family and I have made throughout my academic career, and the social aspect has been almost as influential. I wouldn’t be the same person I am today if I hadn’t attended, and I am really glad I got the chance.” – Davidson Academy Graduate

Located on the University of Nevada, Reno campus, the Davidson Academy is a free, public school for profoundly gifted middle and high school students. Unlike traditional school settings, Academy classes are organized by ability, not by age. Students attend middle and high school classes at the Academy and, when ready, may access University courses for advanced studies.

“The Academy is a school for people who love to learn; it gives them the tools to do so and lets them announce their passions freely to the world . . . We are proud of who we are and we can study what we love. Follow your dreams, wherever they may take you. If you love to learn, then this might just be the place for you!” – Davidson Academy Student
